SENTENCE TOO IRKSOME

Bloom, Ordered To Be Home at 9 o'Clock, Shoots Himself.

WIFE AWAY FROM HOME

Magistrate Appleton Gave Him His Choice of Jail or Early Hours.

Walfrid Bloom, whose case caused good deal of amusement in the Yorkville court a few weeks ago, when Magistrate Appleton gave him his choice of going to the island for six months or being in his home by 9 o'clock every night for a year, committed suicide yesterday in his office at No. 747 Lexington avenue. He shot himself in the right temple with an old fashioned .22-calibre revolver, and died few minutes later.

The whereabouts of Mrs. Bloom, wh had her husband in court on a charge of non-support, could not be learned last night. At the time the case came up Mrs. Bloom testified that Bloom had recently contracted such convivial habits that h was often absent from home and business for considerable periods, and that these absences cost him so much monthat he was unable to support his family properly. Magistrate Appleton directed him to pay his wife $15 a week, but Bloom protested on the ground that he was car rying $14,000 worth of life insurance and had about all he could do to keep up the payments. Thereupon he was offered his choice of a trip to the island or a promise to be in the house every night for year at 9 o'clock. Bloom chose the latte and the case was dismissed.

So far as is known by neighbors of the family, Bloom had been keeping his prom ise to the letter. Every evening that h happened to be out of doors he returned promptly at 9 o'clock. There were no indications of further trouble in the home and Bloom and his wife seemed to get along without any difficulty. Two days ago, however, Mrs. Bloom and the two children went away from home and left ne word as to their plans or destination. The husband remained, and continued to come at 9 o'clock as usual.

Yesterday afternoon Franklin Bailey, the agent for the old-fashioned brownstone house in which Bloom lived and conducted his employment agency, saw the man enter his office, on the first floor. A moment later there came the sound of a revolver shot. Bailey ran, to the office and tried to get in. The door was locked, and the agent then ran to the corner of Lexington avenue and 59th street, where he found Patrolman Wilhelm, of the East 67th street station. The officer returned with Bailey and together they forced the office door Bloom lay stretched out on the floor. He was fully dressed, and even wore his overcoat and hat. There was a bullet hole in his right temple, and his right hand grasped a revolver. From the position of the body it was evident that he had been standing beside the desk in the employ ment office when he shot himself. The police are trying to find Mrs. Bloom in order to communicate the news of the suicide.

URGES FAIRNESS FOR NEGRO Exclusion of W. H. Lewis by Bar Association Causes Protest.

Oswald Garrison Villard, as chairman o the board of directors of the National Asso ciation for the Advancement of Colored made public yesterday a letter written by him to Lewis Cass Ledyard, of this city, president of the American Bar Association, protesting against the action of the executive committee of the Bar Ascluded the memtership of William H. Lewis, a Boston negro, who is now an assistant United States Attorney General. Lewis was elected a member of the association while he was COFFYN SKIMS SKYSCRAPERS and white companions whom he could trust an assistant district attorney in Massachu setts. Attorney General Wickersham has denounced the action taken against Lewis, and now Mr. Villard officially appeals to Mr. Ledyard, saying in his letter:

The board of directors of this association The board of directors of this association wishes to express to you its profound regret at the action of the executive committee of the Bar Association in regard to William H. Lewis. We believe this action to be illegal and contrary to the principle of justice for which your association must stand. We cannot think that it reflects the opinion of the body of high minded, intelligent men who make up your membership.

There is a growing criticism to-day of the attitude of the courts in the United States toward colored men. We ourselves have found numerous cases of discrimination solely because of color. If an organization pledged to advance the science of jurisprudence, to promote the administration of justice, shows its race prejudice by excluding a man regularly elected into its membership when it finds that he is colored, this criticism will be justified, and it will be justified as applied to men high in the legal profession whom we have had a right to believe stood for the impartial administration of the law to black and white alike.

We wish to express to you our profound conviction that the effort to dismiss from your membership, because of his color, a man of merit and high attainment is a denial of justice and a blow at democracy.

HOWARD GOULD MUST PAY

He Was Not Responsible.

Gave No Notice After Separation That

Mineola, Long Island, March 8 (Special).-Howard Gould will have to pay the bill of $249 which was contracted by his wife, Katherine Clemmons Gould, with William McLaughlin for shirt waists shortly after they separated, as a decision just handed down in the Supreme Court here by Justice Garretson upholds the plaintiff in the action and awards judgment to his claim.

Justice Garretson says in his opinion that no notice had ever been served on tradesmen that Mr. Gould would not be responsible for his wife's debts, and he therefore was responsible.

Other bills of a similar kind were incurred by Mrs. Gould at the same time that she purchased goods at McLaughlin's, and it is said that the present action will probably be the means of the respective firms getting their accounts paid.
